Can't make up your mind about which Smart Lock to get? The ZenFone 2 comes with two dedicated apps that will help you make up your mind, including a Smart Lock Checker that runs in the background, so you can check the security of your devices even when you're not unlocking them with your unique, custom unlock code. You probably already know that smart locks are a must-have feature for all mobile devices. What you might not know is how a typical one works. A smart lock is essentially a small, silicon-powered computer that's installed near your doors, and it's used to decipher your custom passcode. It stores all your codes and can automatically lock or unlock your phone, tablet or smart device when it's opened. Some smart locks can only be opened with a certain digit; for example, with a 4 and another digit. When you lose your key, it's important that you reset the lock as soon as possible or else you'll be locked out of your property. So there's no better time to have a Smart Lock Checker. ZenFone 2 Smart Lock Checker ZenFone 2 Smart Lock Checker is one of the best-paid apps in the Google Play Store. This app has been downloaded 30 million times and it is one of the most popular Android apps in 2018. Its popularity comes from its efficiency and usefulness. ZenFone 2 Smart Lock Checker has 14.5-by-7.5-inch main screen that is divided into three areas: from top to bottom, the application has an 8-by-5-inch secondary screen displaying the lock's state, a 7.5-by-4.5-inch secondary screen where you can compare the passcode of another lock with yours or a parent's, and a 4-by-3-inch secondary screen which lets you see the passcode associated with another lock, if it's being changed. This interface lets you run different tests and see results in no time. At the top of the screen, the Smart Lock Checker has the navigation panel, where all the actions are, including Options, that lets you change the type of lock, reset, view change history, and access to the next generation of passcodes. The left side of
