Derived from the Spanish expression, meaning remembrance, refer to a series of compositions by the Portuguese composer Carlos Gomes..“Thanks so much for the review, Aziz! The new setting sounds wonderful and makes me giggle every time I think about it. What an interesting design. And the idea of a library’s infamous reference section as a rear-wheel drive sedan is brilliant. I can’t wait to see the full run-through.” ~Tasia of “Romantic Road” “I was very intrigued from the beginning with the video on your youtube channel. I actually found some of your articles on your old blog that I enjoyed a lot. I love the scenery and you did it very nicely. I enjoyed the video and that make me wait for your next video.” ~Jhon of “Youtube channel” “I love the HDR look you gave to this scene, and I love the extended photo refs and the lighting setup. The mountains in the back and the sunset make for a nice, pretty scene. And it’s so easy to post-process and bring out the details. The trail itself is beautiful, and I am looking forward to experiencing it for myself. Looking forward to seeing your next post!” ~Dina of “Sundimage”TWO GOOD CHICKENS Sunday, August 1, 2011 I have kind of grown to dislike the practice of kids putting on silly clothing for photos. It's such a done deal to deck a baby girl out in polka dot pjs and an equally ridiculous outfit for a baby boy. Two "doll like" photos are coming up in a week and a half. I could sit here and tell them to go without if they wanted but I just can't. They are getting old enough (at least 18mo) to try to figure out how to be themselves in their clothes. I also think it is terribly hypocritical of us as parents to demand a photo be taken when we're going to go out in public in something silly, yet when they

We study in this paper how to construct communication protocols between a pulsatile device and a vanadium dioxide electrode. A pulsatile device is a device that is characterized by its duty cycle, corresponding to the percentage of time during a single period that the device is active. We study several protocols to transmit information from the pulsatile device to the vanadium dioxide electrode, and show that by choosing different control parameters for the error correcting protocols, the scheme can be tuned to work reliably for different values of the duty cycle. These protocols could be used in a large scale communication network composed of such communicating devices.Jebrane
