Product Code For Skyrim Razor 1911 EXCLUSIVE Crack

mehrunes razor is the long weapon wielded by mehrunes dagon, one of the most powerful daedric lords to appear in the elder scrolls v: skyrim. it is nearly one-third the size of the player character's weapon (if it is a two-handed weapon, i.e. a greatsword, it will be somewhat smaller), and consumes the daedric power stored within the weapon to conjure a powerful fiery blast. mehrunes razor is extremely rare, being one of the hardest items to obtain in the game. it must be obtained in the hands of dagon. when viewed in the hands of a daedric champion, the gemstones that adorn it will sometimes glow, signaling the presence of a daedric lord. dagon may give it to you, and you are free to take it back if you wish. or, you may buy it from the merchant named silus in falkreath. in addition to being the only weapon in which you can conjure fire, the razor gives you the ability to permanently encase your health in a shield by conjuring your health back and clicking the button on the left side of the screen. they begin with 100, up to 250 for some, and even more if you spend 300,000 gold. when you begin the quest to retrieve the razor, you will notice that it begins with a piece missing (two if you completed it before). by completing dagon's quest at the shrine of mehrunes dagon you will obtain the other missing piece and be ready to activate the weapon. the quest is revealed to you during the introductory cutscene, and all you have to do to activate the razor is to raise your weapon and click the button to the left of your hand. if you are a wizard, a fire mage, or archer, you will automatically conjure fire to combat dremora, and the daedric gemstone within the gemstone-lined hilt glows red. if you are a templar or warrior, then you will automatically use your shield when attacked. in any case, clicking the button to the left of your hand once will fully encase your health in a shield, and it will last for the rest of the game.
