The best alternative is Aptana Studio, which is free and open source. Other great applications like Pika Software Builder are ClickTeam Fusion (paid), . and so on. You can find more about these on the Internet. From the beginning, I don't want you to waste your time on this review. I assume that you already know what C # is and use it. To help you, I will briefly list some of the .NET features that I prefer. I chose some of them because of the way they work in my company and in others. I assume you are using VB.NET since it is the only language I know.
