wic resets or reset waste ink counters are very important, especially when you do not have a service engineer to do it for you. a wic reset is a very simple procedure and it should take only a few minutes. please make sure that the printer is completely off before you start to do so. you must understand that a wic reset does not necessarily mean that you will be able to print more pages. it just means that you will be able to print more pages, and that is all. if you have a wic reset, you will still see the warning message on your printer that the ink cartridge needs to be refilled. there is no guarantee that the refilling will take place unless you have a service engineer do it for you. it is also possible that it will not take place even if you have a wic reset. we are not responsible for any of this. please use this reset only if you have a need for it. if you need to reset waste ink counters and your printer is not supported, you need to find the waste ink pad and refill it. some models of ink cartridges do not have this pad and will have to be replaced. if you want to recover your password, you must reset the printer to default. to do this, press the reset button on the front panel. this will clear all the settings and will allow you to restore the default settings. then, you need to enter the password again.

note that the reset button is located on the lower left of the printer, near the power button. when you are prompted to check the files you want to save to the usb key, make sure you select the folder containing your new camera/nvr and the reset file you just exported. click the save button to save the files to the usb key, then click finish. 5ec8ef588b
